

Next meeting 20/05

The android application took longer than expected but it is complete now. The agenda is:

- Showcase android
- Discuss the report in its current state
 - Images in the report? Inline? Appendix? Not at all?
 - The contents of the technical chapters. Currently I have a lot I want to write about but I don't want to write 10 pages of introduction, but instead make it a bit more modular.
 - I know it's a bit of a late notice so I'll take all the comments I can get, ideally I have a finished report by next thursday, with a lot of it done by monday.
 - Can you (Fritz) explain a bit further what you expect to see in the implementation? In the email you sent you've written items like systematic test suite design, continuous regression testing, continuous product build, what do these topics mean in terms of report writing?
 - Source code? The server itself is more than 2000 lines, should it be included in the report?

Currently my main problem is structure, I have a lot I want to write but not sure how it will come off naturally.
